Please check the document version of this publication:

- A submitted manuscript is the version of the article upon submission and before peer-review. There can be important differences between the submitted version and the official published version of record. People interested in the research are advised to contact the author for the final version of the publication, or visit the DOI to the publisher's website.
- The final author version and the galley proof are versions of the publication after peer review.
- The final published version features the final layout of the paper including the volume, issue and page numbers.

Statements

Accompanying the thesis "Bee-inspired Distributed Optimization"
by Nyree Lemmens

1. In the abstract task of foraging, pure bee-inspired algorithms are more efficient than pure ant-inspired algorithms, but they are less adaptive (Chapter 3).
2. Inhibition pheromone can alleviate adaptability problems in pure bee-inspired algorithms (Chapter 4).
3. Landmarks limit the amount of environmental information needed for navigation (Chapter 5).
4. Landmark-based Swarm Intelligence applied in Mobile Ad-hoc Networks ensures a natural transition between source routing and routing guided by nodes (Chapter 6).
5. It's not a matter of intelligence, it's a matter of motivation.
6. Bij het schrijven van een dissertatie is het belangrijk om hoofdzaken van bijzaken te onderscheiden.
7. Over bijzaken moet niet te veel gemierd worden.
8. Van geluk zoeken word je niet gelukkig.
9. Als 'druk zijn' het resultaat was van 'druk maken', dan zou iedereen veel productiever zijn.
10. Smiles rule!
